Out of Warranty Condition.

1. Equipment that is cracked, broken, squeezed, bent, warped, cracked, punctured, or partially missing has caused damage to the device.
2. Strange objects, such as ants building the nest, water pouring, and so on, can destroy the device.
3. The device is damaged due to external forces or natural disasters such as fire shock, water fall, flood, fire, etc.
4. The device has an abnormal state or has been involved in an accident.
5. The device has been improperly stored and has been modified and repaired. There are cracks, burns on the circuit board, or the chip has been scraped, the device contains fluids or chemicals, there are missing components, the screen and cover are broken, and the port connector is cracked or broken.
6. Lost computer and equipment.

I've gotten the estimated cost of the equipment if damaged.

I have read and understand the terms of liability in the event that the Notebook in my possession is damaged and no longer covered by the product warranty. I will use and take good care of my Notebook. If there is damage, I promise to compensate The Infinity Data Company Limited for all losses. I will return the company as soon as the return is due. If there is a delay, I agree to take legal action.

Acknowledge and understand the agreement, therefore I signed my name in the presence of the witnesses.
